Today's Program.....

Fred Sanchez introduced Tracy Artley who filled us in on UM's Waste Reduction and Recycling program. UM has had a recycling program since 1989. Overall they calculate that about 31% of the University's waste stream goes to recycling. Revenue from recycling helps reduce the overall cost of waste disposal and keeps the recycled material out of landfills. The UM started football stadium recycling in 1994. Each home game a group of 15 student volunteers place 250 recycle bins in and around the stadium. Before the game starts this student group encourages attendees to recycle. After the game the recycle bins are consolidated for truck pickup. The UM allows anyone to go thorough the trash to collect deposit cans and bottles. On Sunday a group of about 150 clean the stands. Each Saturday about 20 tons of waste is collected with 21% of that amount being recycled. Tracy introduced us to "Rufus" the recycle mascot. Thank you Tracy for the trash talk.

Fines and Happy Dollars.....

Fines:

Dale Leslie proposed a fine on Dan Dever, Bob Barden Sr, Ed Conlin who did not buy their family members' lunch. John Dahl thought that all who did NOT attend the recent Michigan District Convention should pay. Jerry Brown moved that all who DID attend the Michigan District Convention and received pens that looked like syringes should also pay. Passed.

Happy Dollars:

Al Dailey was pleased with the Michigan District Convention and glad that his work is completed (for now). Kathy Stroud was moved by the memorial service for the local 8 year old who drowned in Lake Michigan. Johnathan Peurnek is glad to be back at the UM. Michael Manning was glad he could attend the Michigan District Convention. Clair Dahl is already missing Blimp Burger. Dick Smit is happy that his home kitchen remodel is finally complete and he can resume eating. Rip Kinney is very proud of a former student and baseball pitcher who has had a notable professional baseball career and was recently married at home plate in the UM Fisher Stadium. Fred King found out that the kissing instruction book, which he picked up last week, was intended for someone else (unnamed). He hopes that person will report back on progress; and please note that Friday the 13th was on Tuesday in August. Dale Leslie continued the affection theme by noting that the H encyclopedia is from H to Hug. Harry Cross found a 1934 book containing 600 stunts and skits that the author dedicated to the West Palm Beach, Florida Kiwanis Club. While following up with their club secretary Harry found that their scholarship program is very generous and a model for other clubs. John Dahl was happy to announce that a Division 10 Comedy Night will benefit the Eliminate project. The event will be held at EMU on 10/12/2013, 7-9 pm, cost $15/adult.
