TODAY'S PROGRAM...

Great Lakes Rising

Kathie Wilder introduced our speaker Andrew Gronewold, Associate Professor in the School of Environment and Sustainability at the University of Michigan. Drew, as he prefers to be called, spoke today about Great Lakes Rising Water Levels: relationships to climate change.

Drew described the Great Lakes system, including the watershed surrounding each lake, as the largest fresh water lake system on earth. This year the levels of the Great Lakes are reaching record heights. The previous high water record was set in 1986; the record low level was reached in 2013. Extensive data points on graphs show annual fluctuation, with high water in spring and lower water in fall. Over time, however, one can see that levels are changing.

What makes the water levels go up and down? The hydrologic cycle is influenced by precipitation, evaporation, and runoff. Changes in climate affect these elements in interesting ways: as the lakes' water temperature rises, more water evaporates, which cause more lake effect snow. We saw a dramatic photo of a snowstorm forming over Lake Ontario.

Drew also described the Great Lakes as a mighty river system with water flowing from one lake to the next. The water flow rate increases on its way until it reaches the Gulf of St. Lawrence with a flow rate equal to that of the Mississippi River.

Continued research and data collection on the Great Lakes can help formulate water resource management policies in the future. Click here to read Drew's recent article with Richard Rood, Professor of Climate and Space Sciences and Engineering, University of Michigan, titled: Climate change is driving rapid shifts between high and low water levels on the Great Lakes and published in The Conversation.

NEW MEMBER INDUCTION...

Dan Dever and New Member Paul Gallagher

Induction of new member, Paul Gallagher led by Past President Jerry Brown: Paul was introduced by his sponsor Dan Dever. Paul is a volunteer and community builder—he came to Kiwanis to donate stuff, stayed to help on the dock, and now is our newest Kiwanian! Dan says he met Paul volunteering at the Humane Society and they share a love for dogs. Paul attended U of M for his undergrad studies, then worked with the UAW before returning to earn his law degree. Paul practiced law for 26 years, keeping a union orientation. One of Paul's claims to fame is successfully urging the U of M hockey coach to paint the players' white helmets like those of the football team. His suggestion made it into Sports Illustrated!

HOSPITALITY...

President William reminded us to let Carol Presley know if we plan to attend the celebration for the life of Joe Medrano on July 28. William also noted that Dr. Joetta Mial, the first African American principal in the Ann Arbor Public Schools, lost her middle son Ricki Mial.

Max Ziegler noted that he had visited Doug Hanton, who is in the Towsley Memory Care unit of Chelsea Retirement Community. The progression of Alzheimer's has taken Doug's ability to speak.

Dave Drake reported that his wife Marilyn is recovering well from her serious fall, and is as cheerful as ever.

Jeanette Okuley checked in with Lynne Lande and reported she is feeling encouraged that she has stayed out of the hospital for several months now and is getting a bit stronger.

Chris Winkler reported that his brother Bob's recent bypass surgery was successful. We all are hoping that Chris does not follow the lead of his brothers, who have both had bypass surgery.

In case you missed it—The June 21 Ann Arbor News had a nice article on former member Paul Klinger. See it here.

ANNOUNCEMENTS CONTINUED FROM PAGE 2...

- ❖ Mike Dabbs reported that the Board approved community grants totaling $199,667. The Grant Coordination Committee received 71 applications and awarded 69 grants, ranging from $300 to $9,500. Most grants are in the range of $1,000-$3,000. ## FINES...

After Paul Gallagher paid the traditional New Member Fine, Garry Evans proposed that "Old Members" should also be fined, which resulted in objections and challenges regarding the term "Old"... it was no use... we all paid whether we were "old" or not.

HAPPY DOLLARS...

- ☺ Mike Dabbs started off with a positive report on his wife Pam's progress with cancer treatments and with gratitude to everyone for their prayers and support.
- ☺ Claire Dahl led us all with Bob Barden Sr's famous "One Clap" in honor of his birthday. She also was pleased to have interviewed a "Rosie" who is 100 years old. She worked in the Packard Plant, wrapping airplane parts to be sent overseas. AND this Rosie is Andrea Kotch Duda's mother-in-law!
- ☺ Max Ziegler had a follow up story about the Dexter 1932 class photo given to him by Nick Dever. Max took the photo to the museum, and the young woman there recognized her grandfather in the picture! Max also contributed three Kennedy half dollars
- ☺ Garry Donner highly recommends Welcome to Paradise at the Purple Rose Theater... "a love story about a young man and a much older woman... enough said."
- ☺ Nick Dever had a hopeful dollar for any information about the missing Hall of Honor plaque for Jim O'Kane. (Note: the missing plaque has been found... worth another Happy $)
- ☺ Andrea Kotch Duda was happy for Claire Dahl interviewing her mother-in-law and for learning all that she had done.
- ☺ Bud Roberts was happy on behalf of Clar Dukes, who could not attend today's meeting because he was in Detroit to see his stepdaughter-in-law become a US citizen.
- ☺ Larry French was generous with his happiness for 59 years of marriage with Linda.

Claire Dahl

Andrea Kotch Duda (L) and "Rosie" Mrs. Duda (R), age 100, Andrea's mother-in-law.
