TODAY'S PROGRAM...Michigan's Jim Brandstatter

Jim Carey introduced Jim Brandstatter who spoke on UM Football. Jim has a 47 year broadcasting career. He was pleased that President William remembered his birthday from his last visit to our club. Jim has a podcast called "The Brandy Show - Jim Brandstatter" in the spirit of JP McCarthy's "focus" in which he has conversations with area luminaries.

Jim noted that the UM vs Middle Tennessee State game was not perfect but it was a win. The offense yards gained exceeded last year's average. He believes that next week's game will be competitive because of Army's triple option offense. As to Michigan's quarterback Jim favors Shea Patterson because of his poise in the passing game.

Jim Carey

Today's guest, Jim Brandstatter

Jim described the hard work of the producers and engineers who put together the "Inside Michigan Football" show which airs Sunday mornings with repeats during the week. Asked if he ever wanted to be a head coach Jim says no, because he may not be patient enough, not willing to work 7 days a week year round with massive hours during the season, and lots of travel to recruit.

Jim noted that the unsung heroes of football are the high school coaches who set young men on a path that will help them through life. Jim commented on the "no huddle" offense, which is new at Michigan, noting that 90% of the programs are going in this direction. He sees Ohio State as our greatest threat in that we must beat them to win the Big 10 conference. However, another big challenge each year is the team growing to reach their potential. Donovan Peoples-Jones is expected to play to next week. Because Jim already has a Kiwanis coffee mug, President William gave him another for his wife, Robbie Timmons. Thanks to Jim for taking the time to be with us today!

Enna Whitted of the Southeast Michigan March of Dimes will be joining us on November 18 to talk about the organization but wanted to share both attendee and volunteer opportunities for the annual culinary event held November 11 at the Ann Arbor Marriott Ypsilanti at Eagle Crest. See the Announcements on Page 2 for more information on how you can help.
